PREFACE.

The author has been prompted to write this little volume knowing that there is little in our educational literature that is of any direct help to the inexperienced teacher to teach a special subject. Some of our scientific treatises lack the first element of science, viz., simplicity, so that they are of no use to young teachers, and some are mere outlines, giving only a scientific arrangement of the subject matter, which are nothing better than what is given in connection with most text-books on history. We hope to be able to give to the young teacher a brief and clear exposition of the principles of teaching history and also a limited selection of methods in connection with outlines and exercises as examples.

THE AUTHOR.

SOME PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING HISTORY.

READ CAREFULLY, PRACTICE DAILY.

1. Lead from the known to the unknown.

This principle should be observed in teaching history as well as in geography or any other study because we can only see with the light (knowledge) we already have. Light comes first from a luminous source, then later on, after it has illumined something it may come also from an illumined source.

NOTE.—Teach incidents in the history of the locality where the school is situated.

CAUTION.—Be careful to avoid gossip or scandalous incidents.

2. Interest and arouse curiosity first, then thought.

Interest is always, and in the beginning especially, the “water of life,” that arouses the mind to thought and sets the tongue to flowing.

If your class is dull it is because their hearts have not been kindled into fire by a well told historical incident.

NOTE.—Select the very best striking occurrences in your own town first, then county and state.

3. History should be the story and every story history.

This means that history is to be begun and continued as story telling for several months and then occasionally. “Children learn largely by imitation,” hence they will readily become good story tellers by imitating their teacher. The great aim in history teaching should be to teach to think and tell and tell and think.

NOTE 1.—Stories of great events in our country's history.

NOTE 2.—Biographical stories that are full of grandeur.

4. The exercises should be of such a nature as to stimulate and cultivate the mind, not blurr and dull.

If our pupils act dull, it is a pretty sure sign that they are being dulled, and the only remedy is to wake them up. There are plenty of methods; the fault is our own if we do not succeed.

5. Teach one thing at a time.

This means teach one point at a time, and from point to point until a topic is mastered, then from topic to topic until the whole subject is mastered. This gives the student a clear and also comprehensive view of a subject with a relation of all its parts.

This is the capital argument for the topical method of teaching history.

6. Be assured that the student has correct and clear ideas.

(a) Thoughts are made up of ideas in proper order.

(b) Words are the signs of ideas.

(c) Impressions that are well made on the mind and are recallable, are ideas.

(d) Thoughts put together in a certain way lead one to make a conclusion.

The above will lead any one to see at a glance the importance of correct impressions, and the knowing of the correct meaning of words that occur in a lesson. Students frequently cannot get the thought in a discourse because they do not know the ideas that some of the words represent.

7. See to it that students form correct conclusions or judgments.

This may be done in several ways. One of the best ways is to separate or break up the chain of thought and discover the comparison of thoughts that leads to our conclusion, and see whether all parts are true. This application of our minds to historical subjects, we call the philosophy of history.

8. Seek an equal development of all the faculties of the mind.

Develop faculties that are neglected. Attention of this kind is absolutely necessary to make powerful and successful minds.

9. History has its special mission in mind development.

1st. To get ideas, thoughts and conclusions on historical subjects and the consequent power of the mind to judge, form concepts, and reason.

2d. To retain and recall useful knowledge. We probably always retain, whether directly conscious of the fact or not, but it is very difficult for many to recall what they have learned. The power of recalling, which is one of the most desirable that we can possess, depends on the mind's power to associate ideas, thoughts, conclusions, dates, &c.

The power of association should receive special attention. Minds noted for great memory always have this power greatly developed.

10. Love of purity, justice, and liberty should receive much attention.

The feelings as well as the intellect must be developed. "One half of the time now spent on English grammar at too early an age, would be sufficient to teach our children to love the republic, and to become its loyal and life-long supporters."—Garfield.

11. A desire to act and act right as a citizen.

The student should at first be impelled by interest, later on, more and more by his own resolve.

12. The study of history and government must develop the citizen and patriot of the future.

Greek children were taught to admire the virtues of their ancestors, the Romans to worship their heroes and the grandeur of Rome, so must ours learn to admire the deeds of our great Americans.

METHODS, OUTLINES AND DIRECTIONS.

PRIMARY AND MIDDLE FORM COURSE.

I.

Incidents in the history of the locality where the school is situated.

EXERCISES ORAL.

1. About the building of the school house. When?
2. When the country was new. Indians owned all. Driven away. Was it right?
3. What shows that Indians were here? (Stone axes, arrow heads, copper knives, stone knives, sod over-grown corn-fields, mounds.)
4. Deer, wolves, wild cats, panthers, bison, badgers, beavers, rattle snakes and bears very plenty then.
5. Early settlers. Name some. Where they came from. How they lived. Their houses, farms, oxen, wagons, tools.
6. War between North and South. Many men went. Great fights.
7. Each locality generally has some few events that can be given.

DIRECTIONS.

1. These facts should be woven into short stories by the teacher.
2. Talked about next day.

3. A few questions asked.
4. Higher history class may write some very short stories about local incidents.
5. Read one of these stories occasionally to them.

CAUTION.—Avoid gossip or scandalous stories. Why?

II.

Interesting occurrences in the history of your own town, county and state.

Town: { How named. Why?
 First settler. First house, church, school house, railroad, &c.
 Villages built. When?
 Indian troubles. Great fires.
 Factories built. Men that went to war—make laws—became noted. Other incidents.

County: { Name. Why? When settled? First settler. Indians. Wars. What still to be seen of them?
 First villages—cities—factories.
 The wild woods—prairies—beasts.
 Noted men—noted women.
 First railroads. Steamboats.
 Old farm life—hardships. Other events.
 Daily talks. Questions. One composition.

State: { Name. Why so? When settled? By whom settled? Stories about settlements, Indians, wars, great fires, epidemics, great men, great women, generals.
 Oldest town. When? Where?
 Some State buildings. When built? What for?
 Choice stories of great events. Questions.
 One composition.

III.

OUR LAND.

Stories of events. Biographical stories.

[First in each day's exercise talk about the story told the day before.]

Tell the stories, don't read them. A good example goes a great ways.

Read only for a variety.

1. How our land was found.
2. The red men.
3. Three or four that have sailed around the world. Magellan, Drake, Cook, Grant, Nellie Bly. Compare in time taken.
4. Ponce De Leon.
5. Captain John Smith and Jamestown.
6. The Pilgrims.
7. The war that made us free. Lexington. Bunker Hill.
8. George Washington, a story.
9. Benj. Franklin, a story.
10. How we got Louisiana.
11. Thomas Jefferson, a story.
12. The first steamboat.
13. Slaves, the cotton gin.
14. How we got Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California.
15. Daniel Webster, a story.
16. The war between North and South. Your choice battle, in easy language.
17. Abraham Lincoln, a story.
18. James A. Garfield, a story.
19. The reaper.
20. A composition about six inventions.

DIRECTIONS

1. Read or tell a story once in a while that they know a little about, avoiding the name of the hero of the story, name of battle or war, or the name of the event. Then have them tell you who or what you were talking about.

2. Use libraries or primary histories to get stories from. Most readers give some very good ones.

METHODS, OUTLINES AND DIRECTIONS.

UPPER FORM COURSE.

1. Maps should always be in use with every lesson.
2. Locate every place mentioned in each lesson.
3. Trace every explorer on the map.

13. Time and Place are the eyes of History.

Fixing the time and place lead to a better understanding of events. This does not mean that the student should learn a great lot of unimportant dates and places, but every event must stand in its proper time and place in relation to itself and to other events.

14. The mind must be trained to make associations of events as to cause, time, place, character and results.

The 14th principle of teaching history if closely adhered to is one of the most valuable and useful trainings that the human mind can be subjected to.

To be able to associate like causes with like events and like events with like causes; the times with their events, events with their times; character of persons or events alike or opposite; and the probable or inevitably consequent results; this makes the historical mind, the mind that is able to marshal the proper material for the narration of historical events.

The power of associating makes a better memory and a keener judgment, and above all things a better reasoner.

15. It is what we idealize of the past, that we are trying to realize in the present.

This is an axiomatic truth and we as teachers must see to it that our pupils form noble ideals of character and action.

THE ARCEGENES.

1. When America was discovered they found here the different Indian nations.

2. The Indians may be divided in Indians and Astees.

3.

Indians	{	Astees	{	Pre-Historic	{	Moundbuilders
						Cliff-dwellers
						Cave-dwellers
				Historic	{	Astees

					{	Pueblos
						Cliff-dwellers

Indians	{	(nations)	{	Algonquin
				Huron
				Iroquois
				Cherokee
				Catawba
				Uchee
				Natchez
				Dacotah or Sioux

Esquimaux in extreme North. Patagonians in extreme South.

4. Divisions of nations was:—

The nations into tribes.

The tribes into clans.

The clans into families.

5. The Sachem was the chief magistrate of the tribe.

6. The Chief was the leader of the tribe in war.

7. The Pre-Historic Astees were the probable ancestors of the Astees.

8. They occupied nearly all of North America about from 1,000 to 2,000 years ago.

9. These ancient peoples apparently built the mounds in the Mississippi valley, dwelt in cliffs in the South West, in caves in the North West.

10. The remains of the Moundbuilders are some twenty or twenty-five thousand mounds, numerous broken pottery, fish-hooks, fish-traps, stone drills, copper knives, stone-headed spears, stone axes and hammers, weaving hooks, copper spear-heads, copper mines worked.

11. The nature of their earth-works shows that they were warlike, industrious, and probably cannibals.

12. The Cliff dwellers lived in ancient times as they do now in the South West. They were much like the Moundbuilders, except not so warlike. They dwelt in cliffs where by location they were isolated from the more warlike tribes.

13. The Cave-dwellers lived in the North West, and are now extinct. They were much like the Cliff-dwellers, but dwelt in caves and caverns, worshipped the sun and some idols, and understood the art of weaving a coarse cloth.

14. The Historic Astecs were found by the Spaniards in Mexico, Central America and Peru.

15. They were a comparatively peaceful people; had a monarchical form of government; had some large cities and fine palaces; had good roads and bridges.

16. Their emperor at the time of the conquest of Mexico was Montezuma. His successor was Guatamozin.

17. Their houses were built of stone or adobe.

18. In the City of Mexico they had a large temple where human beings were sacrificed. They worshipped idols and in Peru the sun.

19. Some fine works in the art of carving and architecture were found in Peru. They were rich in gold, silver, copper and precious stones.

20. Their money in part consisted of glass tubes filled with grains of gold.

21. They could weave, work in gold, silver, copper, glass and clay.

22. The cruel Spaniards destroyed nearly all of them for their wealth. Their descendants now are quite degenerate compared with their forefathers.

23. Many ruins of fine buildings are still found in Peru,

Central America, Yucatan and parts of Mexico, one partly broken and dilapidated sphinx in Central America and an adobe pyramid of 80 feet in height in Chihuahua.

24. The Pueblos or Village Indians are still found in northern Mexico and the south-western part of the United States. They live in large adobe houses, in which from fifty to five hundred people make their abode.

25. Our modern Indian is probably the descendant of the Prehistoric Astec.

26. Indian characteristics:

- | | | |
|-------------------------|---|--|
| (a) Life of the Indian: | { | In a wigwam.
Dressed in skins.
Hunted and fished.
Squaws did the work.
Raised corn, beans, melons, tobacco, and some potatoes.
Cooked, tanned, made and mended their clothes. |
|-------------------------|---|--|

(b) They believed in a Good Spirit and an Evil Spirit, and a preserver of life they called Manitou.

(c) They believed in a hereafter with happy hunting-grounds.

27. Where did the Aborigines come from?

The proper answer is—Where did they come from? Some of the following answers are probable and are urged by fair authority:

1. Came from Asia across Behring Strait. Some claim that about 1300 years ago where Behring Strait is there was an isthmus, and the American Continent was then joined to Asia.

2. The Chinese told Gen. Grant in his tour around the world, that their history states that 2,200 years ago they discovered and settled America.

3. Some say that the lost ten tribes of the Hebrews found their way to America.

4. There was a tradition among the Phoenecians that far to the west there was a land they had found and colonized, but that it became lost and they could not find it again.

5. It is claimed that inscriptions have been found in Central America in the Ancient Coptic.

6. The Ancient Aztecs had a tradition of the creation much like the Mosaic.

7. Some claim that the American Indian is a mixed race, the descendants of many lost colonies of Asiatic and European nations.

There seems to be some semblance of truth in this claim.

QUESTIONS.

1. Where did the Aztecs live? What kind of government did they have? Who was their emperor?

2. What kind of a religion did they have?

3. Where has a pyramid been found? Describe it.

4. Where was Ancient Mexico, the city?

5. Who conquered Mexico? Peru? Attempted to conquer Florida?

6. Why did Columbus take a cargo of Indians to Spain?

7. Where did the Sioux Indians live? The Iroquois? The Hurons?

8. What proofs can you give of the existence of the Moundbuilders?

9. Who wrote Hiawatha? The last of the Mohicans? Leather Stocking Tales? Chippewa Legend? Bridal of Pen-nacook?

10. In what state are said to be over 10,000 mounds?

11. What tribe in the southern part of the United States worshipped the sun? What others?

12. How do you think America was first peopled? When? Why?

13. In what did the Aztecs differ from the Indians? From the Cliff-dwellers? The Cave dwellers? The Pueblos?

DIRECTIONS.

1. Let the class read all they can procure about the Indians and Aztecs.

2. Each student should have a history note book.

3. Draw an outline map of North and South America and locate on this map the various Aboriginal nations. Some histories have such maps.

4. Assign subject outlines for historical compositions. Example:—

The Pueblos	{	Their houses.
		Tools.
		Arts.
		Mode of Life.
		Conclusions.

Astees, Mobilians, Mounds, Indian Life, Indian Warfare, Indian Government, &c.

5. The teacher should furnish one or more interesting talks. Nothing pays better. Why?

DIVISION OF THE SUBJECT.

The history of the country is divided into periods. Why?

Periods of American History.	{	I. Discovery and Exploration.
		II. Colonial.
		III. Revolutionary.
		IV. Constitutional.

Periods extended—

1st, from—— to ——

2d, “ —— “ ——

3d, “ —— “ ——

4th, “ —— “ ——

As to kind, history may be divided into sacred, profane, military, political, social, educational and other kinds.

Define each of the above terms fully, since it is necessary that we should understand them well.

DISCOVERIES AND EXPLORATIONS.

NORTHMEN.

1. The Northmen discovered Iceland about 860 and made settlement there in 861.

2. It is claimed that Greenland was discovered by them in 866.

3. It is certain that the Northmen discovered and even settled in Greenland about the year 982.

4. They also claim to have discovered the main land about the year 1000. There is almost no doubt about the truth of this claim. They called the new land Vinland, because of the abundance of grapes.

5. Biorne was the discoverer. Settlements were made. Snorri it is claimed was the first white child born in America.

6. A curious old tower has been formed at Newport, R. I., and a strange inscription on a rock at Dighton, Mass.

7. Documents have been found in Iceland that testify to this discovery.

QUESTIONS.

1. Who were the Northmen?

2. What have you seen in other histories about this?

3. Describe the tower at Newport. What was found on the Dighton rock?

4. What did they call the land they discovered? Why?
5. Who were the Vikings?

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

1. The following events led to the discovery of America:
 - (a) Invention of printing.
 - (b) " " compass.
 - (c) " " astrolabe.
 - (d) " " gun powder.
 - (e) " " theodolite.
 - (f) Reading books of travel.
 - (g) Marco Polo's expeditions.
 - (h) Vasco De Gama's expeditions.
2. Columbus was born at Genoa, Italy, 1435; died in Spain, 1506.
3. He believed in the theory that the world is round, and that by sailing westward one could reach Asia.
4. Columbus' first voyage. (Give the missing links.)
 - _____ to Gomera—Where?
 - _____ " San Salvador—Where?
 - _____ " Cuba—Where?
 - _____ " Hayti—Where?
 - _____ " St. Mary's—Where?
 - _____ " _____Where?

5. Columbus' Voyages:

- 1st. In 1492—discovered what?
- 2d. " 1493— " "
- 3d. " 1498— " "
- 4th. " 1502— " "

6. Columbus' burial places:

- 1st. In 1506 at _____
- 2d. " 1513 " _____
- 3d. " 1536 " _____
- 4th. " 1877 " _____

QUESTIONS.

1. What can you tell about Columbus' boyhood?

2. What can you say about his trying to get aid at Genoa, Portugal, Spain?
3. Where else had he thought of going if not successful in Spain?
4. What did Columbus discover on his first voyage?
5. When and where did he discover S. A.? What did he think he had found?
6. What were the names of his first three vessels?
7. What made Columbus think the Orinoco had its source in the garden of Eden? What did he call the Orinoco?
8. What did Columbus do when he stepped on American soil? Why?
9. Why did Columbus have his chains buried with him?
10. Did Columbus know what he had discovered when he died?
11. Was Columbus first to see land? Who?

DIRECTIONS.

1. Write a biography of Columbus.
2. Let each pupil write a list of ten geographical names mentioned in this lesson. Exchange. Answer next day.
3. Trace Columbus' voyages on the map.
4. Let pupils write twelve or fifteen questions on this lesson.
5. Tell all about the facts which led to the discovery of America.
6. Mnemonic form, Spanish explorations:

SPANISH—

- S—ilver and gold hunting.
- P—once De Leon, Pizzaro.
- A—rmada founded.
- N—arvaez—Nunez De Balboa.
- I—ndian slavery.
- S—oto De.
- H—ernando Cortez.

NOTE.—Recite by the mnemonic outline first. Have the pupils write it from memory first by using the initial or suggestive letter first, later without. These mnemonic forms are to be used as any other topical outline to recite by, and for beginners are claimed to be superior, since they help to strengthen the memory if used properly.

DATE, PLACE AND EVENT.

ASSOCIATIONS.

1. What events do you associate with 1492, 1493, 1498, 1502?

2. With 1502, 1513, 1536, 1587?

3. 1500, 1610, 1520, 1530, 1540?

4. With 1519-21, 1539-41, 1510, 1512, 1513, 1528, 1565?

5. What events do you associate with the following places: Guanahani, Palos, Gomera, Pamana, Mexico, Mississippi, Seville, Valladolid, Florida, St. Augustine, Orinoco R.?

6. What person and date do you associate with: Discovery of the main land, conquest of Mexico, founding of the oldest town in the U. S., discovery of the Mississippi, taking 500 Indians to Europe, wading into the ocean to his arm-pits, looking for the fountain of youth, circumnavigating the globe, killing the Incas. Montezuma?

7. What were the causes that led to the discovery of America; the conquest of Mexico; the exploration of Florida; the conquest of Peru; the founding of St. Augustine; the circumnavigation of the globe?

QUESTIONS.

1. Why did Balboa hide in a barrel in the vessel he came over in? How did he take possession of the Pacific Ocean?

2. What was Ponce De Leon looking for? Why? Has it ever been found? What did it prove to be?

3. What did Cortez find in Mexico?

4. The Visigoths buried their Alaric in the Busento river. Where did the Spaniards bury De Soto? Why? Where before? Why?

5. What explorer had both bloodhounds and priests in the same expedition?

6. What explorer told the natives that he was the son of the sun? (Cortez.)

7. Where did De Ayllon capture Indians for slaves?

8. The three great discoverers

I. Christopher Columbus of Genoa,

II. Americus Vespuccius of Florence,

III. John Cabot of Venice,

were of what nationality? Served what three nations?

9. Who was told by the Aztecs that they got their gold from the north? What explorer afterwards explored this same region where gold was found 300 years later?

10. What happened just 500 years before 1492?

11. What did the Spaniards claim under the title of New Mexico? Florida?

12. On what did they base their claim? (Discovery, exploration and settlement.)

13. Who founded Santa Fe?

DIRECTIONS.

1. Draw an outline map of N. A. and trace in colors the route of each explorer.

2. Re-write the mnemonic form until you know it.

3. Put much stress on Causes, Claims and Conquests.

4. French explorations, mnemonic form.

FRENCH—

F—ather Marquette.

R—ibaut—Roberval.

E—xplorations of Mississippi Valley.

N—ew France—Nicollet.

C—artier—Champlain.

ASSOCIATIONS.

1. What events do you associate with 1506, 1524, 1534, 1562-64-65?

2. With 1605, 1608?

3. What dates and persons with the discovery of the Gulf of St. Lawrence; Wilmington to Nova Scotia; Huguenot Colony at St. John's R., Fla.; Port Royal, S. C.; Port Royal, Nova Scotia; settlement of Quebec; Lake Champlain, Huron; down the Mississippi R.?

4. What causes led to the exploration of the Gulf of St. Lawrence; St. Lawrence R.; settlement of Port Royal, S. C.; Quebec; Port Royal, Nova Scotia; Second Discovery of the Mississippi?

QUESTIONS.

1. Who discovered the Gulf of St. Lawrence? The St. Lawrence River?

2. What city stands now where Hochelaga was?

3. What did John Ribaut do? Was it successful? Why?

4. What did Laudonniere do? Was he successful? Why?

5. Who made the first permanent French settlement? Where?

6. Who were the Jesuit Missionaries? Name some?

7. Who made the second discovery of the Mississippi R.?

8. Who sailed down the Mississippi R. into the Gulf of Mexico? Could he find his way back to the Mississippi R.?

DIRECTIONS.

1. Draw an outline map of the French claims--Arcadia, Canada, Louisiana.

2. Write a list of twenty historical terms that you think your class does not understand and require the meaning of each. What principle is this exercise based on?

3. English explorations, mnemonic form.

ENGLISH—

E—xplorations by the Cabots.
 N—ew Albion.
 G—osnold.
 L—ondon and Plymouth Companies.
 I—sland of Roanoke.
 S—ir Walter ———, Sir Francis ———
 H—umphrey Gilbert.

ASSOCIATIONS.

1. What facts do you associate with 1519-21 and 1577-79?
 1583-84-85-87?

By parallels—

1502, 1602; 1505, 1605; 1577 and thirty years later?

2. What person and date with second circumnavigation of the globe? Roanoke Island? Jamestown? Northwest Passage? Martha's Vineyard?

QUESTIONS.

1. Name three persons that sought the Northwest Passage? When? Where? Did they find it? Why?

2. What did Frobisher try to find? Why?

3. What were the motives of Drake's expeditions? Of Gilbert's? Of Raleigh's? Of Gosnold's? Of Amidas and Barlow?

4. Who brought tobacco to England? The potato? Three turkeys and two savages? A load of glittering earth? The Golden Hind with $4,000,000 worth of gold, silver and precious stones?

5. Who sailed around the world just fifty years after Magellan?

6. Who was Queen of England at this time?

7. What nation owned the great Armada? Who defeated it? What was the result?

8. Mention two English explorers that sailed around the world?

9. Where was South Virginia? North Virginia? Why so called?

10. Where was New Albion?

DIRECTIONS.

1. Draw an outline map of the English claims.

2. Let each pupil write a composition on English explorations.

3. Write and re-write the mnemonic forms.

4. Always use the map with every recitation.

DUTCH EXPLORATIONS.

SOME SUGGESTIONS.

1. Require each student to keep a history note book.
2. Get them to bring outside matter to the class.
3. Do a great deal of drawing of important territory in question — important battles.
4. Have well outlined topics for recitations and also some for written essays.
5. Have students make tables.
6. Show how history depends on Geography.
7. Always note causes and effects and the relation of events.
8. Get students to recite in their own language.
9. Bring out important points fully by your own questions.
10. Students should learn to make original research outside of common text books.
11. Lead students to appreciate interesting features of a history lesson.
12. Cautiously and carefully lead them to form opinions by asking well directed questions as to what they think about this act or that event. They should give reasons for forming such opinions. Find no fault. Do not force your own opinions upon them.

SECOND PERIOD OR COLONIAL HISTORY.

The topical method should be the leading method in the study of history.

This method is best, because it presents the subject as a systematically connected and related whole. A student cannot follow this method of study without great benefit. Other methods, however, should be used to supplement this method, since no one method is perfect in itself alone.

SOME SUGGESTIONS.

1. Have concert exercises in well learnt short biographies. These must be learnt from the same book verbatim.

2. Systematize all matter and all work done.

3. In order to have a successful concert drill exercise, the lesson must be well learnt and all of the class must learn the lesson.

4. Biography is the best part of history.

5. Review daily, not once in a while.

6. Direct pupils how to study. Do not recite for them.

7. Have the pupils do the work outlined for them. Do not accept less by no means.

DIRECTIONS

1. Use the above for a thorough oral review, asking questions about each one of the above events.
2. Review the whole subject.
3. Review the reviews.
4. Do not neglect to have each pupil keep a history note book.
5. Always introduce selections from standard authors, that apply to the lesson.
6. Remember that history and geography are sister studies, and that one will always support the other.
7. Always, for each lesson, have a set of review questions to ask. Review daily.
8. While reviewing, maps should be drawn from memory.
9. Always question very closely, so as to have pupils make a close and critical study.
10. Lastly, and always, have all mistakes corrected that may occur.
